

ANNE MILTON: WORKING FOR GUILDFORD

I am delighted to be putting my name forward to stand again in the General Election on June 8th. It has been a privilege and an honour to serve as your Member of Parliament since 2005.

■ As many of you know, I trained as a nurse and worked in the NHS for 25 years. I went into politics because I believe we need politicians who have front-line experience of our public services. My background is very much at the heart of all that guides me in politics.

For instance, at the moment there is much concern about changes to stroke services and while some change is often necessary to get the very best treatment available, my own experience shows me that people need to be cared for close to where they live.

I will always be there to help you with any problems you have. This has been a hugely rewarding part of my role as MP over the past 12 years. Whether it is helping with benefits or housing, getting support for children with special needs or making sure small businesses get their voice heard in government, I will always work to get the help people need.

If re-elected, I will continue to make sure our voice in Cranleigh and Guildford is heard loud and clear at the heart of government.

Getting things done

A PASSIONATE SUPPORTER OF LOCAL WORK

■ I have been an energetic supporter of local charities, helping to raise funds and clearing any of the frustrating bureaucratic blockages that they face. I am always on hand to lobby on behalf of local groups and turn my hand to fundraising!

I welcome hundreds of schoolchildren to Westminster each year and it is great when they get the chance to see the House of Commons in action. It's always a huge pleasure to visit schools, colleges and the University to make sure young people understand more about politics and why it's so important for them to be involved.

A PERSISTENT AND FORCEFUL CAMPAIGNER

■ I have fought for and won more than £20million for improvements around Guildford Town Centre, to the A3 and for the Slyfield Regeneration Project.

We also need good rail provision, more platforms at Guildford and much better cycling facilities. I have recently met the new train operator to highlight the results of my recent train survey and the shortfalls of the proposed station redevelopment, particularly for cyclists. Infrastructure isn't just about travel, it's also about sewage, water supply and flooding. The many flood forums I started have made some real progress but we need to carry on.

STRONG AND STABLE LEADERSHIP IN THE NATIONAL INTEREST

GENERAL ELECTION: THURSDAY 8th JUNE

WHAT THIS ELECTION IS ABOUT

Strong and stable leadership in the national interest with Theresa May and the Conservatives - or weak and unstable coalition government led by Jeremy Corbyn.

Every vote cast for Theresa May and the Conservatives will strengthen Britain's hand in the Brexit negotiations.

Only Theresa May has the plan and the proven leadership to deliver the right deal for Britain abroad and a better deal for ordinary, working people here at home.

Theresa May and the Conservatives will stick to the Plan for a Stronger Britain and take the right long-term decisions for a more secure future and:

- Establish Britain as the strongest country in Europe, in economic growth and national security.
- Build a stronger economy that rewards people who work hard and creates secure and well-paid jobs. We will make sure there is growth and prosperity around the whole country.
- Provide real opportunity for all. We will give everyone a chance to get on in life, by building enough affordable housing and making sure there is a good school place for every child.
- Build a more secure and united nation by taking action against the extremists who try to divide our society and standing up to the separatists who want to break up our country.

We need a General Election now to secure the strong and stable leadership the country needs to see us through Brexit and beyond.

A General Election now will strengthen our negotiating hand in Europe. It is the only way to ensure we have strong leadership, certainty and stability for a full five years, not just up to the point at which we leave the European Union but beyond it too.

We have a one-off chance to hold an election while the European Union agrees its negotiating position and before the detailed talks begin. This decision cannot be delayed and needs to happen now.

If we don't have an election now, we will have uncertainty and instability because negotiations with the European Union will reach their most difficult stage in the run-up to the next General Election.

The choice at this election is between strong and stable leadership in the national interest with me – or weak and unstable coalition government led by Jeremy Corbyn.
